

Global Cooling Review

SmoothJazz.com

Joyce Cooling is everything hip and happening about Smooth Jazz... she's vibrant, soulful and musically delicious.

In the ever-changing world of what we call the 'music business,' Joyce Cooling and long time partner Jay Wagner have savvied up and released this independently owned album (their 7th studio project to date), GLOBAL COOLING. The world-class recording features her signature body-moving, funky blend of contemporary jazz with global flavors that we've come to love and expect.

Eleven new tunes, all compelling... in particular, we're digging the horn-enhanced, "Grass Roots," the chilled funk of the title track, the smoothness and layered vocals of "Save This Dance For Me" and the sweet, soulful vocal "What Are We Waiting For?"

Joyce continues to be an advocate for NAMI (National Alliance on Mental Illness) and is donating a portion of her sales from GLOBAL COOLING to the non-profit.

Get on board – Cool out with this hot new release! ~SANDY SHORE
