

JOYCE COOLING TRIO at the AUGSBURG JAZZ FESTIVAL
AUGSBURG, GERMANY

The place to go if you are a fan of contemporary jazz

Sept 26, 2010

Sunday morning, while some rays of sunshine were entering the building, Joyce Cooling with Jay Wagner and their own drummer (Celso Alberti), performing in Germany for the first time, captivated the crowd with her blend of jazz and latin grooves, most notable were the percussion interludes that provided a nice change to the instrumental parts of the concert. She performed her own "Revolving Door" sitting at the edge of the stage, providing a moving part of the concert.

Her show was warmly received and she was visibly moved by the response of the crowd, she did two encores.

by Peter Böhi

photo by Lena Semmelroggen